

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO
CHICAGO 37 • ILLINOIS
INSTITUTE OF RADIOBIOLOGY AND BIOPHYSICS
6200 Drexel Avenue

July 22, 1949

Dr. Joshua Lederberg
Department of Genetics
The University of Wisconsin
Madison 6, Wisconsin

Dear Dr. Lederberg:

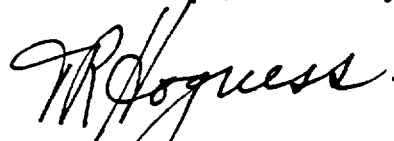

Your letter of July 5 reached me when I was on vacation, and I have not had an opportunity to answer it before.

The subject that you suggest seems to me to be eminently appropriate. I have some question, however, about the time of these lectures, inasmuch as they would interfere with your teaching duties unless given between Thursday evening and Monday morning. I would suggest that you give two lectures, one on Friday afternoon and one Monday afternoon, rather than three. Since these lectures are open to the public, I do not believe that it would be very appropriate to give any of them on Saturday. The attendance would be too small.

The honorarium for the two lectures would be the same as for three.

I might add that Beadle is to give six lectures in December, and therefore it might be more appropriate for you to talk more specifically about the work which you are doing.

Yours very sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "T. R. Hogness", with a stylized, cursive script.

T. R. Hogness
Director